of Wasatch county brought Luvar Hutchings of Springville down from Hober yesterday, and this morning left with him for Salt Lake, where he will serve a term of one year in the state prison, to which he was sentenced by Judge Booth in Heber for a statutory offense committed with a 15-year-old girl in Theodore, Wasatch county. Sheriff Wall reached Heber from Theodore Monday, bringing a prisoner. He reports a hard trip in the snow through Strawberry valley. The party consisting of four men with teams and sleighs and well equipped for the trip in the way of provisions and bedding, left Theodore Friday. The roads, however, became so bad on account of deep snow that they were compelled to leave their sleighs and other effects behind them, making the horses go ahead to break a trail. Both men and horses were thoroughly exhausted when Heber was reached, and without the help of the horses in breaking a trail it is believed the men would have had a hard time to pull through. The trip under normal conditions can be made in one day.

From remarks he let drop, Mr. Fahey believes he had been an officer in the German army. He was the one that wanted to start to walk from Diamond switch to the Strawberry tunnel in search of work. "And he being the older," says Fahey, "I went along obedient like."

PROHIBITION LAW

LOGAN, Feb. 25.—Justice in Judge Brangham's court is not a money-back proposition, as a young man whose home is in Smithfield found out yesterday. He was arrested the first of the week for being drunk and other indecency. At the time he put up $25 bail to the police and was released, but yesterday decided to come in and get back a part of that amount if possible. He was very much surprised therefore when the judge said $15 for being drunk and $25 for the other offense.

Two other plain drunks were fined $10 apiece and an old offender in that line was given a $30 fine and 20 days in jail. There are a great many drunks being brought in nowadays, but, thanks to prohibition, one sees less of it than when the city was wet and not so many drunks were handled perhaps. That may seem a little enigmatical but it is true, for at the time theity was wet, if a man became drunk and yet could proceed homeward or to any out of the way place, he was allowed to go and of course encountered a great many people whom he was bound to offend by his conduct. Now, when a drunken man makes his appearance on the streets, he is immediately taken in charge, and removed from the public sight. Such drunkenness as there is comes from the salons just outside of the city limits, and as soon as the drunkard gets in side the limits he is nabbed. As for rowdyism on the streets, it is now a thing of the past.

To Parents' Class Workers:

At a recent session of the Fifth ward Parents' class, a motion was made and carried that the class invite the co-operation of other Parents' classes in an effort to secure a better observance of the Sabbath day.

It was suggested that perhaps this work might be more effective if the assistance of the Betterment league were secured in getting the business men of the city to declare a haif holiday for their employes some day during the week (perhaps Wednesday or Thursday) and in addition secure the closing of all stores on Saturday night at the usual time, 6 p. m., thus leaving no excuse for neglect in the proper observance of the Sabbath day
